The Nordic Network for women in Physics is a collaborative forum to exchange information and knowledge among and about women physicists. The objectives of the Network are to increase the visibility of women working in various fields of physics in the Nordic Countries, to facilitate international networking, and to increase the fraction of women physicists by identifying gender barriers and by working towards removing such barriers.

The second workshop programme includes plenary talks on physics and gender issues, as well as interactive sessions in form of group work and posters.
